

Laptop Donation Made to Nuns' Welfare Foundations Arya Tara School

Aditya Jha, a non-resident Nepali and successful Canadian Entrepreneur, visited Arya Tara School on October 16, 2008 and presented 15 children's laptop computers to students at Nuns' Welfare Foundations Arya Tara School.

Established in 1988, the Nuns Welfare Foundation of Nepal (NWF) is a non profit organization promoting the education and welfare of Buddhist nuns. NWF's Arya Tara School is the flagship project of NWF, opened in 2000. Arya Tara School is a free boarding school for nuns which specializes in combining traditional Buddhist studies with modern education.
